

OBESITY MANAGEMENT MODULE

Clinical consultation from an English Perspective

PRESENTERS

Dr Stephen Lawrence
GP and Associate Clinical
Professor, University of Warwick
Medical School

Dr Rachel Pryke
GP in Worcester with a special interest in weight management

SUMMARY

The consultation is a discussion about the English position and practice of obesity management in primary care

CONSULTATION

How can primary care services be more effective in helping patients to lose weight

- Recognising obesity as a complex, metabolic, multifactorial chronic disease, not entirely cured by weight loss
- How to dissociate weight gain from personal failure
- Redefining the diagnostic association of BMI and obesity
- The use of sensitive but direct non-judgemental questioning in the patient consultation
- Changing the mindset to view obesity management very much in the same way as other chronic diseases
- Reading the patient's body language in reference to trigger issues (e.g. alcohol consumption)

Referral processes in England

- Discussion of the 4-tier referral process in England
- The need for better understanding but GPs of what referral services are offered by the NHS and local CCG including psychological support
- Details of weight management programmes provided either by the NHS or commercial services (e.g. Rosemary Conley healthy eating plan)
- Pharmacological management of weight loss including the use of GLP-1 receptor agonists
- The referral and management criteria of use of bariatric surgery in England
